Since our beginnings, it has been a shared opinion in our group that the Malbec tradition is the core of Mendoza as a developing Terroir. Mendoza has two centuries of tradition in winemaking, and this history has produced a local know-how based on collective knowledge of this grape and its relation with the local environment. Mendoza wines have distinctive characteristics based on soil, topography, climate, landscape and biodiversity.

WINES - AUSTRALIA

The origin of the Terlato & Chapoutier partnership in Australia dates back to 1998, when Chapoutier enthusiastically told Terlato about a top vineyard site in Australia. Located on an eastern-facing slope on the southern edge of the Pyrenees Hills in western Central Victoria, the region's soil could produce "great wines," according to Chapoutier. As Terlato recalls at the time, "When Michel asked me to join him, I found it was impossible to say no."

The unique Lost Buoy vineyards lie atop the rugged limestone cliffs of Port Willunga in the world-renowned McLaren Vale. The shoreline of Port Willunga is serene and beautiful, but in winter months can become a dark and treacherous landscape. Several great iconic ships in South Australia's history have ran aground or sank at the door step of the Lost Buoy vineyard, with some crew lost only meters from shore. The Lost Buoy vines, once too almost lost (to property developers), was born again when the local Kelley family stepped in to rescue the vines in November 2011. And so the Lost Buoy story begins...

This is a challenge that Umberto Cesari eagerly took up in the 1960s, with 20 hectares of vineyards right in the very heart of Emilia Romagna. Over the years, he was able to add other vineyards, different grape varieties, and unprecedented, exceptional new wines. Over all those years, though, one thing remains unchanged: his passion for wine.

Boekenhoutskloof was established in 1776. Located in the furthest corner of the beautiful Franschhoek valley, the farm's name means «ravine of the Boekenhout» (pronounced Book-n-Howed). Boekenhout is an indigenous Cape Beech tree greatly prized for furniture making. In 1993 the farm and homestead was bought and restored and a new vineyard planting programme was established that now includes Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Grenache, Semillon and Viognier.
